DAILY SENTINEL.

Double Life.

Man has two lifes; the one of patient toil,
Of ceaseless travail with the stubborn ground,
Of battling with the burly sea's turmoil,
With stubborn metals and the anvil's sound;
The other is a maze of vision'd things,
Infinitely fill'd up with shapes ideal;
Of gentle thoughts or wild imaginings,
Of sinless bliss, or terrors grimly real,
And all the winged spirit may conceive
Of human happiness or heavenly wonder.
O, blest is he who best can interweave
This earthly toil with images sublime;
And dwell mid common things such glories under!
Most hapless he who wracks his weary time
In each apart; and rends these lives asunder!

A Happy Reply.

A letter from Paris to the New York Express contains the annexed anecdote:—

Last week I told you of the blunder made by the Patrie in announcing that the newly-elected Speaker of the House of Representatives was a negro. I have now something better still to tell you. In conversation with a distinguished gentleman lately returning from Italy, he related to me the following anecdote:—

An English gentleman of education and refinement approached an American friend, saying, playfully, "So, Mr. ——, I see your House of Representatives, determined to keep the country in a state of agitation on the subject of Southern slavery, has succumbed to the influence of a powerful Northern majority and elected one Banks, a negro, Speaker!"

"Indeed," replied the American, very composedly; "pray where did you procure your information?"

"From the newspapers, to be sure," answered the other.

"In what terms were the facts stated?" quietly asked the American.

"Simply that Mr. Nathaniel Banks, 'Black Republican,' had been elected Speaker after a long and arduous struggle, from which I gather that Mr. Banks, being a 'Black Republican,' is, of course, a black man."

"Then, sir," replied the American, "if the paper had stated him a 'Red republican,' you would have concluded Mr. Banks to be an Indian!"

The name "Black Republican" was then fully explained to John Bull, who expressed himself a "wiser, if not a better man" for the information.

☞ Some time last summer a number of ladies and gentlemen were visiting a garden, a short distance from this city. Among the articles growing were some hops, which, to one young lady of the party, were quite a novelty, and attracted her attention despite the more showy and brilliant flowers which were in the vicinity. Observing, among the hop-plants, several differing from the rest, she inquired the reason. A gentleman informed her "that is the male hop, which——" "Bless me," cried the young lady, "I never knew there was such a thing as the male hop before; I shall be very cautious how I drink beer in future."

DROPPING THE H.—Helen Brady, from "the gim of the say," was once a domestic in our family; and a difference of opinion arising among us as to her Christian name, I was summoned to settle the point. "Miss Brady, what may your name be, Helen or Ellen?" "Helen, sir," was the prompt reply. "But how's that, your trunk is marked 'E. B.'?" Miss Brady was puzzled, but in an instant exclaimed, "Oh, beshure sir, but it was marked in England, where they're after dhropping the H."

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

We publish this morning some extracts from the testimony taken thus far before the Congressional Committee in Kansas, in regard to the Missouri invasion of that Territory. They will be found deeply interesting.

Another of our foreign correspondent's capital letters is commenced in this number, and will be concluded tomorrow.

The record of the decisions of another day in the State Supreme Court is given, and the parties interested will read it with sour or sweet faces, as may happen.

Numerous items from our State exchanges exhibit the growth of the State to advantage.

Our advertising and local columns are unusually full and interesting, and will repay a careful perusal.

The [illegible] arrived at New York last night with three days later news, but we could get nothing.

Unless our telegraph report is in error, there was a marked advance in Mil & Miss R R Stocks in New York yesterday, reaching 87.

The Frauds of the Kansas Election

The New York Times, of the 10th instant, contains the first instalment of the testimony taken at Lawrence before the Congressional Committee, showing up the deliberate and preconcerted frauds perpetrated by the "Border Ruffians" and other Pro Slavery sympathisers in Missouri, at the election held in Kansas for the first Territorial Legislature. We should be glad to make room for the whole of it as a revelation which Northern Freemen would do well to study. But we must content ourselves with a few extracts. These, however, are all sufficient to show the well settled determination of the South to force Slavery upon Kansas, the secret machinery by which they hope to succeed, and the open and impudent defiance of law, and the inexcusable outrages upon Territorial and individual right, by which their proceedings have thus far been characterized. We commence with Mr Judge Davis, a Missourian, who testified as follows:

Came to Kansas from Missouri to vote; understood Reeder had sent East for voters, so we came; other inducements were given; don't know of any one who came and voted a Free State ticket and returned.

Cross examined by Reeder—Did not understand Reeder had brought on voters from the East; other inducements were to extend Slavery into Kansas; our people who came thought they had the right; I contend myself they had a right; I was not at election last Fall; was not here in [illegible]. There is a secret society to extend Slavery into Kansas; societies called by various names—"Social Band," "Friends' Society," "Blue Lodge," "Sons of the South," by others; don't know as I know what it is properly called; have been at a meeting or two; have never been at any meeting in the Territory; have seen no lodge in the Territory; it was formed some time in the latter part of 1854 probably; have 200 copies of its ritual; think written minutes are kept of proceedings; we are to extend Slavery into Kansas; we have signs and pass words by which we know each other; object was to extend Slavery into Kansas, and unite all the friends of Slavery for that purpose. I am told it exists in other States as well as Missouri.

* * * * *

This society was used as a means to concentrate a body of men on the 30th of March, 1855; was a good chance to come and vote; do not know that it was lawful; thought it was right; don't know of any Anti Slavery men who came into the territory on purpose to vote; friends of the society could tell a ribbon on their coat and be protected; it was used as a means of understanding each other; at any rate, they were sworn to find out all they could from the other party; expresses were sent and received concerning Kansas emigration and elections by this society; committees were appointed; lodges were used at that period for the purpose of notifying men to come here.

Here we have a glimpse of the machinery so necessarily resorted to at the election of March, '55, to pour an army of Pro Slavery voters into Kansas, and carry all the Legislative Districts by storm. Some of the next witnesses show us how well and surely the machinery worked. William Lyons, an actual settler in Kansas, testified as follows:

I voted for Delegate to Congress in the Fall of 54; saw a great many persons passing the day before election; they were strangers; I live on the California road, on the way to Douglas; they said they were going to vote; they were from Missouri, and many of them told me so; suppose there were over 100 who went to Douglas to vote, the place of election; saw some of them returning on the day and some the day after the election; they were strangers to me; had no women, children, or furniture with them; they were not; I lived in this district and voted here; those people hurrahed for Whitfield, and for Hill, and some for Whitfield and Hill both.

Hammond Marry, another citizen of Kansas, gives some further details of the election at this Douglas precinct, fitly named after the author of the Nebraska Iniquity. He swears:

Was at Douglas on 30th of March at election; saw a large crowd there, and many wagons; got there just as Mr Mace did; he tried to vote, and when the Pro-Slavery party saw that his vote was a Free State vote they said he should not vote it; several men took hold of him by the collar and pulled him away; he took hold of me and we were both pulled away together from the poll; they cried out, "Cut his throat," "tear his d—d heart out of him"; saw one man draw a knife upon him; saw a man with a lever, trying to pry up a corner of the cabin; others cried out, "Don't do it until you have orders"; saw Ellison come out the cabin with the ballot box in his hand, and cry out, "Hurrah for Missouri!" Ellison was one of the judges; heard Jones (now Sheriff) say he would give the judges five minutes to resign or die. Jones gave one more minute, and they then left; these judges were Ramsay and Benson, both Free State men; the crowd then commenced voting; saw no Free State man vote.

This JONES, who kindly gave the duly appointed Judges "five minutes to resign, or die" is the same Sheriff JONES, over whose rumored death from a pistol shot at Lawrence, the whole Pro-Slavery and Doughface Press of the Union have shed such a profusion of tears. The "bloody instructions" which he taught in March '55, have "returned to plague the inventor."

Mr. N B Blanton, another citizen of Kansas and a Judge of election, tells the following straight story:

N B BLANTON called and sworn—Came into the Territory in September, 1854, settled on the Wakarusa, five miles from here, and have resided there ever since; came from Jackson county, Mo; was appointed one of the Judges of election for the district; was in Missouri for two or three weeks before election; when I came up home on the 28th March, met a company of men; did not know them; they told me they were coming to Lawrence to vote; some of them told me they were from Booneville, and some from Columbia; they found I was one of the Judges; they wanted to know if I would let them vote without swearing; I came about fifteen miles with them; should suppose there were 100 of them; some eight or ten asked me this question; saw some of these men here at the election of the 30th of March; I told them I could not let them vote according to the oath I would have to take; they said they were all citizens of the United States, and had the right to vote; they endeavored to persuade me to let them vote.

They endeavored to get me to resign, and became much enraged because I would not; an old man asked me to continue as Judge, receive their vote, and they would pay me; I did not then resign, but left them; I resigned on the day of election; was in one of their camps near my house; they came there the evening before the 30th; they came over to Lawrence; saw some of them here; there were fifteen or twenty there; looked over part of the poll list, and know some of the men whose names are there to reside in Missouri.

Cross examined—They said that if I did not receive their votes, their men would hang me; they told me they wanted to get [illegible] sent them, and make Kansas a Slave State.

We might, did our space allow, multiply these extracts to the length of a column, or more. The above, however, must suffice for the present. The facts they detail need no comment. They speak, and eloquently too, for themselves. Let our readers study this revelation of the designs of the South and the doings of the "Border Ruffians" and the outrages upon the Ballot box, and judge for themselves how much respect and obedience are due to the enactments of a Legislature chosen by such outrageous frauds and high handed violence. And yet it is in support of these laws that the standing Army of the United States is called upon to act and for refusing obedience to them and organizing and establishing a State Government that the leading Freemen of Kansas have been indicted by a U. S. Grand Jury for the crime of TREASON!

Milwaukee & Beloit Railroad.

The Directors of this Company held a meeting yesterday in this city and resolved to push on with the work. They have in charge one of the most important enterprises in which the people of our city and the State have yet engaged, and it is bound to go ahead. They have, too, a better basis of subscription than most Companies start with. We have hitherto spoken of the vast importance of this road to our city, and we trust that the capitalists who are possessed of wisdom and forecast will see the policy of liberal subscription so that the road may be put under contract at an early day.

The following are the resolutions passed at the meeting yesterday:

Resolved—That upon thoroughly investigating the merits of this enterprise and after examining the surveys already made, we are decidedly of the opinion that no Rail Road project is at this time being agitated by the people of our State by which the investment of a like amount of capital will secure to stockholders a greater percentage upon their investments, and at the same time secure to the City of Milwaukee an equal amount of business, and to the inhabitants upon its line greater advantages, than the prompt construction of the Milwaukee and Beloit Rail Road.

Resolved—That we regret that the Mayor of the City of Milwaukee disapproves of the loaning of the city credit to this road.

Resolved—Further, that it is our fixed determination to push forward with the construction of said road, and to abate our exertions in no particular until we shall witness the final completion of the enterprise.

That is the ring of the true metal.

ANOTHER OPINION OF THE BARSTOW PRESS.—The Lafayette Co Herald, a very zealous democratic paper, which supported BARSTOW at the election last fall, thus comments upon the apology for a defence, recently put forth by the F[illegible] State Canvassers:

THE STATEMENT OF THE CANVASSERS.—A statement from the late State Canvassers in regard to the last Gubernatorial Election has appeared and been published in quite a number of papers, and were it not for its length we should present it to our readers, but as it has been published in papers which are taken in our community, we do not think its reprint, in our column would pay for the room. We are glad that we have seen and perused it. At the outset of the quo warranto proceedings we stated that we wished to see a full and impartial investigation into the frauds upon both sides, and that the voice of the people should be respected. When complaint was made that the Court had usurped jurisdiction, and that the investigation had been merely ex parte and partizan, we felt pained that anything should transpire to weaken our respect for the highest department of our judiciary, and as we read the proceedings in Court and evidence, we felt almost certain that the Board of Canvassers would have it in their power to produce a counteracting of frauds perpetrated upon the side of Bashford to those shown upon that of Barstow. That statement has appeared, and though clear, and bold and candid in its tone, it has failed to do all or much as was expected. Our respect and confidence in our Supreme Court has revived, and while we can find no just ground to cast imputations of fraud upon any one, we are unwilling to impugn the rectitude of the Court upon insufficient evidence, and though we still have our doubts of the jurisdiction, we are forced to the conclusion that they have acted conscientiously and fairly, and that the best interests of the Democracy of our State demand that the decision should be respected. We humbly conceive that nothing is to be gained by contesting the decision of a Court after judgment except by a legitimate appeal to a higher tribunal.

This is undoubtedly the sentiment of the honest mass of the Democracy. But the Barstow leaders hold very different language. They mean to carry the question into the Fall Canvass and, if possible, elect a Legislature who will impeach the Supreme Court, refuse to recognize Gov Bashford and restore Lt Gov McArthur to the seat which he so discreetly and gracefully vacated. We shall see how "The Forty" prosper in this last notable undertaking.

JANESVILLE CITY BONDS.—The Janesville Standard of the 10th replies at length and with much severity, to the letter of Mr J W CURTISS, Secretary of the Chicago St Paul and Fond du Lac R R Company, (heretofore alluded to in our columns) denying explicitly that the Chicago, St Paul and Fond du Lac Company had purchased the R R V U Rail Road, or assumed its liabilities, or agreed in any way to pay the interest on the Janesville city bonds. The Standard insists and adduces evidence to prove, that each and every one of the statements made by Mr CURTISS was untrue, and that, as an officer of the Chicago, St Paul and Fond du Lac R R Company, he ought to have known—if he did not know—that the facts were precisely otherwise.

A RICH LEAD AT FAIRPLAY.—A correspondent of the Grant County Herald, under date of the 6th instant, states that Messrs Jacob Hunaker and Thomas Pallett have discovered an immense body of mineral on lands owned by Abraham Cains, Esq, about a mile and a half Northwest of Fairplay, Grant County. The mineral lies about 18 feet below the surface, and is about 16 feet in depth, by 10 feet in width, almost solid. The correspondent adds that there are flattering leads in the same vicinity, that the Miners are doing well and that business of all kinds is better than it has been at any other time within six years past.

KANSAS CORRESPONDENT.—The News undertakes to criticise the statements of our Kansas correspondent, while claiming infallibility for its own. As the public hereabouts know both correspondents pretty well, it is quite unnecessary to argue the question. Ours is Mr F D [illegible], for several years a resident of this city, and for a year or more past an actual settler in Kansas—Theirs is DAVID BONHAM, a convicted murderer, who owes his escape from the gallows and release from State Prison to Executive clemency. That he should sympathize with the "Border Ruffians," denounce the "Free State men," and patronize the News, is just what his past history would lead all men to expect. As to the relative credibility of the two witnesses, we are entirely content to leave that to the popular jury.

Major Wayne and the Camel—Sage Diploma—Ismail Pasha and his Fate—The Character of Defterdar—Geezeh and its Chicken Factories—A Volunteer Escort—The Pursuit—Ascent—Their Cost—Speculation of We[illegible]

CAIRO, Jan 10, 1856

While in this city I made the acquaintance of Major Wayne, from the United States—a son of Judge Wayne of the U S Supreme Court—and a gentleman of varied talents and of practical judgment, and well adapted for the mission with which he is entrusted. Congress, at its last session, made an appropriation for the purchase of some Camels, in order to test their usefulness in our own country as beasts for draft and speed—particularly in California, New Mexico, and our other Southern frontier Territories, interspersed with wild desert. Sometime last Spring Mr Wayne sailed in the Supply under the command of [illegible], son of Commodore Porter, and repaired to Tunis. Here the Bey presented our Government with a male and female Camel, which were taken on board to test the practicability of bringing them here. [illegible] From here he went to Constantinople, for the purpose of going into the interior of Persia, and some of those other Southern countries where the camel is used, which have a climate very similar to our own; but owing to the war and the unprotected state of the country, he was unable to visit any places in the interior with safety. There was also another difficulty in the way—all the best animals had been purchased for the use of the war.

But notwithstanding this, Mr W visited Sebastopol, where he had an opportunity of seeing several varieties and communicating with some of the, as well as other practical business men, who were familiar with the character and habits of the camel. He then returned to Alexandria, and had just purchased four specimen animals at Cairo which he was about to take down to his vessel. From here he intended to go to Smyrna and try and pick up some there suitable to take home. He said no one could imagine the difficulties and embarrassment that were thrown in his way notwithstanding he assured all the governments that it was purely for a scientific experiment. For instance at Cairo he was nearly ten days before it was decided by the Viceroy that he might have any Camels, thinking that there was some political trap set to catch him—At last he came to the conclusion that owing to the friendly relations existing between the United States and Egypt, Mr Wayne might have three. But Mr W, was not satisfied with this number and continued the correspondence perseveringly until he got liberty to purchase one more. To illustrate how difficult it is to do any business of this kind with a half civilized people, I will mention a fact to which I was privy. After the purchase of these animals, Maj W asked, as a favor, that one Arab driver might be sent with his own men to take charge of the camels to Alexandria, at his own expense. As it required a permit of some kind, he deemed it prudent to do so, lest the Camels might be stopped by the way. This threw the officials into a dilemma and it took three whole days before they came to a conclusion whether this person to be vested with such extraordinary powers,—nothing by the way, more or less than a Camel driver—should receive his appointment from the Governor of the city, or from the Pasha! Maj W sent a person every morning with a note to know the decision, and it was not until the fourth morning that he got a final reply.

Mohammed Ali left many sons and daughters. Ibrahim Pasha, the oldest was a brave man, and celebrated as a General in the wars of his father against the Turks, and subsequently against the Greeks. He, together with the others, Toossoom and Ismail have long since been dead. The latter, about twenty five years since, was sent by his father to levy troops among the Ethiopians. When he got to the province of Shendi, he sent for the Chief and ordered him to levy a large number of blacks for his father's army. The Chief told him that he could not get so many, in so short time, as he required; whereupon the young Pasha struck him with his pipe across his mouth, and also at the same time using the most insulting language. Nothing more was then said, and the Chief apparently set himself about his task. That night the Pasha with his fifty followers, was invited by the Chief Melek Nimr, to pay him a visit on shore to attend a feast given in honor of his distinguished guest. The invitation was accepted, and the forms and ceremonies were exchanged on both sides, to all appearance, with the utmost politeness. Soon after dark the Pasha's old [illegible] observed a great many corn stalks and unthreshed grain brought up around the place, and, on inquiry, were informed that it was forage for their Camels. This was so reasonable that nothing more was thought of it and the dance and other festivities proceeded. A few hours later, and all at once the Pasha and his followers were left alone—a moment passed, and sounds were heard without, resembling the roaring of winds. Another moment, and they were surrounded with a wall of fire and beyond that a thousand armed Ethiopians uttering the most savage and demoniac yells. It is needless to state that the cane [illegible] and combustibles, with which the men of the wily Chief had been so closely surrounding it during the evening, fairly roasted the young Pasha and his fifty followers alive.

One of Mahommed Ali's sons-in-law, called Mahommed Bey Defterdar, was also a man of blood and cruelty. It is related of him that on a poor woman's appealing to him to compel one of his black slaves to pay for some milk he had bought and would not pay her for, he had the slave summoned to his presence. The amount involved was five paras—equivalent to about one cent. The slave denied having drank any of her milk. On her affirming the Bey that her statement was true, he told her that he should ascertain for a certainty the truth; but if she had deceived him, he would severely exact. As he did the slave. Whereupon he had the stomach of the slave cut open and discovered the milk. He then gave her the money, regarding it a precedent for none ever to deceive him, imitating, as it is supposed, Sultan Bajazet who had done a similar act of cruelty.

Abbas, another son of Mahommed Ali reigned but a very short time and died very suddenly; it is supposed by many that he was killed. He was brought to his palace in a dying state, said to have been seized with a fit, but it is a fact, well authenticated, that blood was found plentifully in the same carriage after he was taken out. The present viceroy of Egypt is Said Pasha, another son of Mahommed Ali, a man who is not liked by the people. He is a person of very ordinary talent, fond of making display in military parades and keeping up a standing army, but takes little or no interest in the improvement or lessening the burdens that oppress his people. He has more than a hundred wives, yet has not legally married either of them.

Early one morning I set off alone, with the exception of my donkey boy, a lad of some 17 years of age, to see the pyramids. After I got to the Nile, I followed up the river some 2 miles and then passed over it in a ferry boat to the village of Geezeh. As this place is about half way to the pyramids, we halted here to rest—Meanwhile I took a look at the ovens used for the hatching of chickens. This has been extensively carried on here since the days of the Pharaohs. The ovens are very large, and a lively business it appears to be. I got down on my hands and knees and crawled into one, where I found a naked Arab following his vocation. He had never been out of the village, and I should judge, by his looks, never out of the oven—Here he was walking around among layers of eggs and tottering chickens. The eggs were placed on clay floors, and the heat was kept uniform at about one hundred degrees Fahrenheit. For one hundred eggs brought to the establishment, fifty peeping chickens would be given on stanter. Some wonderful Yankee in the United States a few years ago imagined he had made a great discovery in this sort of hen labor saving machine but five thousand years at least before he was born, and down to the present day, these hatching ovens have been as common here in Egypt, as cooper shops with us.

Geezeh, in the time of Leo Africanus, was the Versailles of Cairo a city of beautiful palaces built by the wealthy Memlooks, who wished to retreat from the noise and bustle of the great city. Retired merchants, artisans and men of letters had their villas here also and the whole was surrounded with a strong wall. But the palaces, the villas, mosques and temples have all disappeared and nothing but a few wretched mud huts remain. A portion of the line of the walls alone is left standing, through a breach of which I slowly made my way towards the pyramids.

The next five or six miles was over the level bottom lands of the Nile valley—probably the most productive land in the world. It resembles very much our low, level prairie lands. There is no timber except occasionally a grove of palm trees. Most of the land is sown to wheat and other crops. The view is very much like many of our Wisconsin prairies, seen at a distance, interlaced with plots of plowed land, upon which I just seen the wheat peeping up of sufficient height to give the whole look green—large tracts of prairie grass—and the whole interspersed with groves of timber.

Although my visit was unheralded, I was waited on from Geezeh by at least as many people as usually form the retinue of a pasha—They were all beggars. Some went under the pretence of carrying water, some to help me up and down from the donkey, some to carry me over mud puddles where they feared the donkey would stumble, and others to give me advice—Part of them had on a few rags, and others could scarcely lay any claim to a single article of wardrobe. After trying several times to run away from them with my donkey, I concluded the best way would be to let them follow on their own hook and take no notice of their continual cry for backsheesh.

Concluded to-morrow.

IMPORTANT ARREST OF COUNTERFEITERS AT DETROIT.—The police at Detroit have just made an arrest of a part of a gang of counterfeiters who had circulated, for some time successfully, a $1 counterfeit bill on the Providence Bank Rhode Island, and had just brought on many thousands in counterfeit 10's on the City Bank of Montreal. Over $500 in the last mentioned bills were found upon the prisoners. Eight men were arrested. The following is a description of the Montreal counterfeit, of which it is believed a large quantity has been put in circulation.—They are on the "City Bank of Montreal" and purport to be paid at its branches in Toronto Three Rivers and Quebec. The vignette at the top and middle of the bill is the Royal Arms of England directly under this at the bottom of the bill, and between and a little below the signatures is a steamboat. On the right is the bust of a woman, on the left that of a man in a square medallion. And in this connection is a sure guide for detecting the bills. Over and under this medallion are the words "Incorporated by Act of Parliament." Notice that Parliament, when correctly spelled, has an A after the l.—In the counterfeit, there is no A after [illegible]. By this means the counterfeits can be readily detected.

KENOSHA ELECTION.—The special election for City Clerk in Kenosha, resulted as follows: West 231, O'Kane 164—majority for West, 117. The Telegraph says:

West is Republican, and O'Kane Democrat, and as the contest was as near political as our local strifes ever are, we trust our neighbors abroad who have been claiming Kenosha as a democratic city, will make a note of it.

The Covington Riot.

Cincinnati, May 14

The Turners, to the number of 106, engaged in the melee at Covington, surrendered to the authorities yesterday. On preliminary examination, all but four were discharged, who were held in $1000 bonds each, which was given, and they marched in procession this side of the river. Officer Harvey supposed to be dying. Marshal Butts will recover.

SUPPOSED COLLISION.—Capt Hicks of the schooner Daren which arrived at Buffalo Monday, reports seeing a collision on Sunday off Ashtabula between a schooner bound up light and another bound down loaded. The loaded vessel after she was struck hauled in to the south shore. She was thought to be the schooner Emblem.—Chicago Press.

FOREIGN ITEMS.—The Czar of Russia, in his speech announcing the conclusion of the treaty of peace used the following language by which he would seem to be in earnest in his resolution to cultivate the arts and enable his people to enjoy the blessings of peace:

"I have thrown open the ports of Russia to the commerce of the world, the frontiers to the free circulation of foreign produce. I wish, henceforth, that the greatest facility shall be afforded in our market for the exchange of wares of every origin, and of the raw materials and manufactures of our soils. Various projects will be shortly communicated to you, the object of which will be to give an impulse to home industry, and in which I trust every nobleman will take a share."

The Emperor, who spoke with some emotion, was listened to in religious silence. The Ministers of the Interior and of Finance have received formal orders from his Majesty to do away with all obstructions in the way of commerce. The frontier to this is already open, and vessels are arriving at all our ports. The export of precious metals is alone still suspended, and this is explained by the exits of gold and silver in the public treasury.

It is said that the Turkish Government has dismissed the Hospodars of Moldavia and Wallachia, and appointed a Commissioner to administer the government of these principalities.

The Sardinian Hospital, at Constantinople had been destroyed by fire, but the sick were saved.

The Sultan has sent a magnificent present of pearls to Victoria, and jeweled swords and saddles to Napoleon.

AN IMPORTANT MOVEMENT.—Mr James of R I has reported in the U S Senate a bill in relation to the patents which will be of great interest to inventors and to the people, if it become a law. The N Y Times gives the following abstract of its features:

Its object is to protect the public on the one hand against the oppressive rise of invalid patents, and the really meritorious inventor from the piracies of dishonest infringers. It is held that many patents are now invalid and yet the public submit to them rather than incur the cost of litigation. Under this bill patents may be repealed once for all, and the public then be relieved. Now, it is assumed, thousands of patents are issued, which, being of no value themselves stand in the way of really valuable inventions.—Under this act all such patents will go out of existence in five years and thus cease to block the way of others more valuable. Patents under the existing law, are extended to twenty one years by the Commissioner of Patents and sometimes Congress is applied to for further extension.—Under the proposed bill all patents are issued for five years in the first place, and may then be extended fifteen years more, at the option of the patentee—in all 20 years, after which no extension can be had, thus relieving the Commissioner and Congress from the vexation of applications. In order to finally settle the question of extensions and to deal equally with all inventors, all patents now in existence are placed upon the same platform as those to be granted under the bill, and subject to the same process for repeal by anyone who may be injured by them. Under the present law no patent is allowed for inventions produced in another country, in consequence of which foreign improvements find their way very slowly here, but the proposed bill allows a seven years patent to the introducer of a foreign invention.

The report of the Committee was unanimous.

☞ The Schooner J & A Stronach Capt WADE from Manistee bound for this port with lumber and [illegible] was run into on Wednesday morning at 3½ o'clock off Point Sable by the schooner Telegraph bound from Chicago to Grand Traverse and filled in a few minutes. She was struck by the larboard main chains and her mainmast broken in three pieces by the collision. Capt Wade was on deck at the time and states that if the Telegraph had kept her course the collision would have been avoided. The Capt of the Telegraph stated after the collision that he had not been on deck during the night and asked Capt Wade how the wind was. This is the third vessel that the Telegraph has run into and there is now a suit against her pending in Chicago, for running down and sinking the schooner [illegible]! The Stronach is owned by Jas. Stronach of Manistee. The steam tug Tift has gone in search of her.

SCH M S SCOTT.—The fine new schooner M S Scott, Capt Lewis built at Cleveland for D Newhall of this city arrived yesterday with a full cargo of 400 tons potter's clay and fire brick. With this cargo she draws but 9½ ft water. She is a staunch and fast craft, and a welcome addition to our Milwaukee fleet.

A HUMAN LIFE SAVED

DOWAGIAC, Mich, March 11 1856

J A RHODES Esq —Dear Sir—As I took your medicine on consignment "no cure no pay," I take pleasure in stating its effects as reported to me by three brothers who live in this place, and their testimony is a fair specimen of all I have received.

W S CONKLIN told me—"I had taken nine bottles of Christie's Ague Balsam and continually run down while using it until my lungs and liver were congested to that degree that blood discharged from my mouth and bowels, so that all thought it impossible for me to live through another chill. The Doctors, too, did all they could for me but thought I must die. Nothing did me any good until I got Rhodes' Fever and Ague Cure, which at once relieved me of the distressing nausea at my stomach and pain in my head and bones, and produced a permanent cure in a short time."

H M CONKLIN says—"I had been taking medicine of as good a doctor as we have in our county, and taken any quantity of quinine and [illegible] without any good result from 25th August to 14th December. But seeing how nicely it operated on my brother, I got a bottle of RHODES FEVER AND AGUE CURE which effected a permanent cure by using two thirds of a bottle."

S M CONKLIN was not here, but both the other brothers say his case was the same as H M's. I sold the medicine to both these parties and the cure was as speedy from the same small quantity [illegible]

Yours with respect, A HUNTINGTON

The above speaks for itself. Good proof as it is, it is of no better tenor than the vast number of like certificates I have already published, and the still greater amount that is continually pouring in to me.

One thing more: Last year I had occasion to caution the public in these words:

"In [illegible] of my general circulars, [illegible] pamphlet with the information 'Let the proprietors of any other medicine say as much if they dare!'" &c.

Now I take pleasure in saying that the Caution referred to the same "Dr Christie's Ague Balsam" that is mentioned in the above certificate.

There are several other unscrupulous people who are applying to their poisonous trash all that I publish about my Fever and Ague Cure or Antidote to Malaria, except the Certificates of Cures, and the certificate of the celebrated Chemist Dr James R Chilton, of N Y, in favor of its HARMLESS CHARACTER, which is attached to every bottle. These will always serve to distinguish my medicine from imitations.

CITY MATTERS.

POLICE COURT, MAY 15.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, POLICE JUSTICE.

A MEDICAL MAN IN A MUSS.—A man named Roderick Green, alias "The Little Doc," a doctor by profession, was brought up for trial on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, and having indecently exposed his person, in violation of the city ordinance.

The defendant plead not guilty, and was defended by General Paine. The evidence was clear as to his being drunk and disorderly, and that he was guily of gross and beastly conduct in exposing his person. As it was the second time the defendant had been before the Police Court, the first time was for drunkenness, the Court fined him $5 and costs, amounting in all to upwards of $11.

[We suppose the above notice will be be "considered derogatory to the dignity of the profession" under the rules of the "National Medical Association," but when a quack comes into the Police Court, guilty of a gross offence he must submit to be advertised.—REPORTER.]

John Geeron and Peter Echternacht were each fined $1 for drunkenness; John T. Brooker for being drunk and disorderly was fined $2; Jacob Hammon and Margaret Hammon for assault and battery upon John Bauerly were fined, the former $10 and the latter $5; Jacob Hammon for an assault and battery upon Louisa Bauerly was fined $10 and Margaret Hammon for an assault and battery upon Louisa Bauerly was fined $5; John Doe for fast driving on bridge was fined $2; John Nieman for an assault and battery, tried, found not guilty and discharged.

KEEPING A DISORDERLY HOUSE.—Professor Eppes was brought up charged with keeping a disorderly house; defendant plead not guilty, declaring "dat it was de dark colored gentleman dat lib opposite to him." The case was set down for trial this morning at 10 o'clock.

John Doe, fast driving on bridge, paid $2,00 fine; Noah Lister, for leaving his team unhitched, paid $2,00 fine.

THEATRE.—At the Theatre last evening there was a crowded house to witness the performance of "Jack Sheppard," and to listen to the spirit-stirring "Marseillaise," which, as sung by Miss Denin, was rapturously encored.

This excellent actress has been re-engaged for a few nights longer, and to-night appears as Meg Merrilies in the Musical play of Guy Mannering, supported by the strength of the company. The farce of the "Little Treasure" concludes the performance.

The manager has the tragedy of Camille in careful rehearsal, to be produced shortly.

GOOD LUCK FOR THE LADIES.—Just as they are about to replenish their wardrobe for summer, Madam Briggs appears among us with her excellent and valuable art of cutting. Those that have learned are delighted with their success and the beautiful fits they get; they cut their own garments in less time than they have formerly spent in trying on; and themselves much better, and do not have to wait six or eight weeks, as when they depended on a dress maker.

Madam Briggs is at the Walker House.

my16-c374-d1t

THE OLD FIRST WARD MARKET HOUSE.—We understand that yesterday an offer of seventy-five dollars per week was made for the use of the hall in the Market House, and that it was refused, although the hall is vacant four or five nights in the week. Now if the hall will bring that amount of rent, what should be the rent of the entire Market House, and what becomes of the rent when it is paid? Has it ever been paid and to whom? These are questions that have been repeatedly asked us of late by several tax-payers of the first (now seventh) ward. Will the Aldermen answer?

LOCOMOTIVE.—One of the steam tugs day before yesterday towed up the river, on a scow, a handsome first class locomotive, named the Janesville, for the Chicago, St. Paul, & Fond du Lac R. R., for the northern section of that road.

IN THE WAY.—How much longer is that old frame building to stand on East Water Street, our principal thoroughfare, at the corner of Michigan Street, and block up the street? Does any Alderman or other Officer know?

NEW FIRM.—It will be seen that Messrs. RICE & STEVENSON succeed W. L. HOPKINS & Co., in the drug business, at No. 58 East Water St., where they advertise a large and well selected stock of goods in their line.

TEACHER WANTED.—See the advertisement for a female teacher in a private family.

WALL sells this morning, at 10, a large lot of damaged goods. See his advertisement.

WASHINGTON, May 15th.

HOUSE.—The House took up a bill to regulate the Washington Municipal Election, and after debate, it was passed. Message from the President on Central America was received and read.—Adjourned.

SENATE.—A message was received from the President relative to routes of transit between the Atlantic and the Pacific, and the general condition of Central America, in which he says a small body of citizens invited to Nicaragua by Castillion's party, had apparently put an end to the struggle. The new government exercises the actual power, and we do not go behind this to investigate the question of legitimacy. We do not enquire into the causes which may have led to that change of Government. If, therefore, when the Nicaraguan Minister, French, came here three months ago, facts now presented had existed, he must have been received. Another has now presented satisfactory evidence.

A debate ensued, in which Mr. Crittenden said that in one week's time the country would be agitated from end to end. Mr. Mason defended the message.

The documents are very full, and comprise orders to the Minnesota, Potomac, St. Mary's and Fulton—the St. Mary's to remain at Panama as long as needed.

There is a correspondence between M. Molina, of Costa Rica, and Mr. Marcy, in which the former reflects upon our Government.

Mr. Macy replies that he presumes M. Molinas language does not imply a charge of connivance by our government of fillibustering. May 2d, Mr. Macy sends Molina an account of the outrages in slaughtering prisoners, and presumes that he condemns such conduct.

Mr. Molina replies that the Costa Ricans are warring against adventurers, and cannot award them the rights of war.

XXXIVth Congress—First Session.

WASHINGTON, May 14.

Bennett, of N. Y., from Committee on Public Lands, reported a bill granting one million of acres to Florida, to aid in constructing thee railroads, embracing 500 miles in length, and moved the previous question.

Mr. Jones, of Tennessee, said the House had come to a pretty pass when bills of that character, involving such large appropriations, could not be inquired into except by favor. He proposed to get rid of those bills as soon as possible; and it is well known that if referred to the Committee on the Whole, they could not be acted upon this session.

In reply to a question, Mr. Bennett said the Committee on Public Lands intended to report similar bills for railroads, for Michigan, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Missouri, requiring about 6,000,000 acres. An unsuccessful motion was made to lay the bill on the table.

The bill was passed by a vote of 66 against 57

WATER POWER IN WISCONSIN

TO RENT OR LEASE.

THE DEPERE COMPANY offer to lease, on easy terms, any required power for MANUFACTURING PURPOSES. The Dam is at Depere, and is the last Dam on the great Fox and Wisconsin Improvement, and at the head of navigation for the largest sized vessels navigating the great lakes. The power is inexhaustible, and in the midst of immense white pine and other timber lands, and, being at the head of the above-mentioned Improvements, will be supplied at the lowest terms with the produce of the great Fox River Valley, and this, among other advantages, makes it a most desirable point for MERCHANT GRIST MILLS, as grain can be unloaded directly from the boats into the mill, and Flour loaded directly into the vessel, for transportation to Buffalo or other eastern ports. The above Company also offer, for rent, rooms, with power attached, in a large and convenient building.

Lament of the Prohibited.

My cellar holds no store of olden wine,
'Twere meet offence for whipping post or pillory,
A long farewell thy vintage, sunny Rhine,
Good bye, to thee, bright Sillery!

No cob-web bottles grace the dusty bin,
Where once they stood the darkness settles fearfully,
With saddened gaze I peer in vain within,
And note their absence tearfully.

John Barleycorn hath shed his blood in vain,
His oaken place stands in dark profundity
Untenanted—with reminiscent stain
Upon its huge rotundity.

Exorcised now are spirits red or white,
In slender flask or dem john orbicular;
The frightened ghost no more shall see the light,
Jamaica—old particular!

The juniper its ruddy fruitage gives
No more for Holland's flavorous zest Byronical,
But when I think of Schnapps of Schiedam's best,
My smile is most sardonical.

Monongahela—charmingest of names!
The sound euphonious, saddened memory banishes;
Thy life exhaleth in cerulean flames,
And toddy stick vanishes;

And thou, old Cognac, art the banished king
Of spirits choice, in wonderful variety,
Thy various herdes old ocean dare not bring,
To tempt our forced sobriety.

The foaming tankard of ambrosial ale
Which moistened erst our clay with draughts nectarian,
No more shall cheer us now the brewer fall
In grasp of Law, briarean

No more of Jersey's cider to be had,
That pleasant charm, which cheered us once facetiously,
Champaigne of any sort would not be bad,
We'd smack our lips deliciously!

Madeira, sherry, claret, where are ye?
Gone from the bin where once in quiet dustiness,
Ye all reposed with Hock and Burgundy,
And Port of ancient crustiness

The wondrous Julep happily compounded,
In vinous harmony with mint herbiferous,
Incontinent, hath cut its stick and fled
From Exciseman vociferous—

And sherry-cobbler—how shall I deplore
The worth and beauty erst in thee distributed!
Like Oliver Twist I ask in vain for more,
For thou, thou art prohibited.

And Cock tail—warm creation of a brain
Poetical, artistic, philosophical,
How hast thou fallen by the law of Maine,
The Vandalist and Gothical,

And thou, Punch bowl thou standest empty now,
No fragrant steam bedews thy round protuberance—
Gone is the airy sprite which decked thy brow
With vaporous exuberance.

I drink farewell, with many a bitter tear,
In apple juice—and quaff with wild temerity
A beaker brimmed with Lilliputian beer
In temperate austerity. A Q B

THE EAGLE

STEAM FOUNDRY!

—OF—

TURTON & SERCOMB,

296, 298, 300, 302 and 304 West Water St.,

IS STILL IN FULL BLAST, WORKING DAY AND night to supply the daily increasing wants of the Badger and other States.

In order the better to do this, the proprietors have erected a large brick Foundry in addition to their former premises. They have added to their stock of Tools a large Planing or Slotting Machine, three Lathes, and a Machine for making Bolts, and are now putting in a Steam Engine of — horse power to drive the whole, thereby adding to the former facilities for the successful carrying on of the Foundry, Machine, Engine and Blacksmithing business. They never were in a better position for doing business, and in any department.

In regard to the character of the work got up by this

The Oldest Establishment in the State

the Proprietors refer to that in successful operation through the country as their best recommendation, as it can speak for itself. All they can say is, that they are both PRACTICAL MECHANICS, and know how work should be done as well as the next man.

They continue to manufacture FLOUR and SAW MILL GEARING, and STEAM ENGINES, on the most approved principle.

They have always on hand a large stock of BRASS WORKS, such as GUAGE AND CYLINDER COCKS, OIL CUPS AND COCKS, and STEAM WHISTLES. Also TURTON'S FILES, which they will sell at the lowest cash price.

They are also Agents for LAWMAN'S PATENT STEAM GUAGE, which are well worth the attention of all those who use Steam Engines.

In conclusion, they invite a continued share of the patronage of their old friends, and solicit a call from all those in want of Saw or Flouring Mill Work, assuring them that no exertions will be spared to render the Old Eagle worthy of the reputation it has already gained.

Their motto is, "Excelsior."

MILWAUKEE MUTUAL

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

OFFICE IN MARTIN'S BLOCK, MILWAUKEE, WIS.

Capital over $165,000, in Cash & Premium Notes.

THIS COMPANY offers unrivalled facilities for the insurance of Buildings and Personal Property against fire. The advantages offered are security beyond the reach of circumstances, as the real estate insured is by law bound for the assessment made to cover losses beyond the power of evasion. Every person insured is a member of the Company, and entitled to one vote. The cost of insurance does not exceed one-third as much as in Stock Companies, saying nothing of the increased security and the incompatible ease with which losses are settled. During the last five years, this Company have issued 2600 Policies, and made but three assessments, at a cost to the property insured, not exceeding two mills on the dollar.—Its business is principally confined to this State.
